Redrawing High Priority

This is where you artists shine!
You take already-cleaned pages and redraw areas where Japanese text is printed over the artwork and mimic the mangaka's drawing style so that it looks just like the text was never there

You need to have a Wacom tablet or a tablet PC to be able to do this with any kind of speed. There are easy redraws and harder ones and our test caters to artists of varying skill levels.
You don't need to know how to clean to do this and there will be additional one-on-one training after you pass the test

Typesetting High Priority

If you love fonts, if you are a perfectionist who cringes when seeing a scanlation using Comic Sans, then this position is for you!

Typesetters erase the original Japanese text in the bubbled, take the English translation (already proofread) and put the text into the bubbles (also in Photoshop), carefully minding the centering and use correct, nice looking fonts
